PASTURES, PEARS AND PROTESTS: ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF LAKE COUNTY FARMING AND LABOR

Lakeside Campus • 3700 Country Club Drive, Lucerne

Thursday, October 6, 2016 • 6:30 - 8:00 p.m.

Antone Pierucci, Curator of Lake County Museums, will give us a glimpse into the county's fascinating and little known agricultural past, from the first cattle of the 1840s to industrialized fruit processing of the 1940s. Using written records, oral histories and historic photographs, Pierucci will shed light on the stories of local farmers, dairymen and ranchers as well as the racial tensions and labor unrest of the time. Pierucci will interweave the records of crop yield and acreage with the far more conflicting history of the men, women and children used to tend the land itself in an insightful look into Lake County's past.

Tony Pierucci received his Master's Degree in Art History, Archaeology and Museum Studies at the University of Missouri, and for the past eight years has worked in museums, archives and archaeological excavations throughout the United States and around the world. He arrived in Lake County in 2014 to start work as the Assistant Curator of the Historic Courthouse Museum in Lakeport and the Lower Lake Historic Schoolhouse Museum, and in 2015 was promoted to Curator of the Lake County Museums. Tony writes a regular column in the Lake County Record Bee highlighting little-known parts of the region's history, and is the author of Lake County Schoolhouses, a pictorial guide to Lake County's early schools and their role in the communities.
